DOMESTIC TRAGEDY.

A Butler Farmer Murders His Spouse and Then Kills Bimself.

CONNUBIAL QUARRELS FREQUENT.

Nearly an Entire Township Subject to Heavy Coal Options.

MINOR NEWS FROM THE THREE STATES

SSPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. BUTLER, November 24 .- One of the most brutal tragedies ever committed in this county took place at 2 o'clock this afternoon on the road leading from the railroad station to Petersville and about midway between these points. In a neat little farm house in the heart of the Hundred-Foot oil field lived Barney Brell and his wife. Born and reared in the community in which they had lived for upward of 50 years, they were been in an asylum. The child raised an known far and wide on account of the many alarm before being killed, and when citizens family fends that had marred their 30 years of married life. Each was jealous of the other, and accusations of unfaithfulness were frequent.

In the absence of any positive knowledge as to the cause of the outbreak which culminated in the death of Brell and the mortal wounding of his wife, the conclusion is easily formed that it was the result of a quarrel. The first intimution the public received of the tragedy was the report of pistol shots. Neighbors hastened to the of pistol shots. Neighbors instend to the house and found Brell in the throes of death, with a builet hole in his head, and his wife lying near by, mortally wounded having been shot in the right breast, the builet penetrating hor lung. The busband, after attempting to kill her, bad turned the weapon upon himsell with fatal effect. He died in a few minutes, while Mrs. Brell still lingers between the and death, with the chances nearly all gainst her recovery.

A physician was summoned from Evans City to render medical aid. The Brells have figured quite conspicuously in the Quarter Session Courts for several years past, and the reports of their donestic quarrets make up a record of their donestic quarrets make up a record of the courselocation of the course of the neit domestic quarrels make up a record of rutality which seems almost incredible. Mrs. itell was a step daughter of Jacob Heid, deceased, who amassed a fortune shortly before te died from the oil which was produced on his farm. Before his death he presented his daughter with the farm on which they lived, They had three grown children, two daughters

ALMOST A TOWNSHIP

Comprised in a Series of Coal Options,

Which Soon Expires. MANSPIELD VALLEY, November 24 .- Nearly the whole of Robinson township now composes one vast coal option, and December 4 will go to make up one of the largest and most active coal districts in the Western Pennsylvania fields. The first option on any portion vania fields. The first option on any portion of the famil expires on that day, and whatever is done with that option will be the keynote of the treatment of the others.

The deal is one of more than ordinary interest, as all of the available coal land in this section is bound up in the option referred to. The area covered is about seven square miles. The surface of the John Nickel farm, on the Steubenville road, has been purchased back from the company, which was given the option, the company retaining the underlying coal. Negotiations are also pending for the purchase of the Phelps coal field, which is owned by New York parties. The rights of way for the Moon Run Railroad have all been secured, with but one exception.

GAVE HIMSELF UP.

A Pittsburg Glass Worker Wili be Tried for Manslaughter.

"SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. 1 FINDLAY, November 24,-Joseph Donovan, his own dooryard by hitting him on the head with a piece of board, fracturing his skull and causing almost instant death, and who has been a fugitive from justice ever since, returned this morning to the scene of his crime and gave himself up to the Sperin to hear indictment of manslaughter.

Donovan, who come here from Pittsburg, is a glass worker, and it is said that the members of fits union assisted him to escape and kept him away until the excitement which followed the killing of McMacness died away, and then in-

MURDER WILL OUT.

Victim's Body Half Burned in an Attempt to Hide the Crime. PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH 1 DuBois, November 24-A young man, yet unidentified, was found dead in an abandoned unidentified, was found dead in an abandoned lumber camp about three miles from this place Sunday evening. Two boys from a camp near the same place, along the line of the Buffalo, Rochester and Fittsburg Railread, made the discovery, which led to an investigation.

The dead man bad been shot through the head and his body thrown out top of a fire built of billets of wood cathered about the place, the evident intention being to destroy every trace of the crime by burning the body. The plan was so far successful that no one has yet been found who can identify the body in its charred and binckened condition. An inquest is being held to-day.

ENFORCING PROHIBITION.

Grand Jury Indicts Express Companies for Receiving Liquor C. O. D. SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE.

PARKERSBURG, November 94 - The prohibi tion counties in the interior have made fruitless endeavors for years to suppress the ship-ment of liquor into their localities, but with no success. They now propose to try another plan.

In Doddridge county the grand jury recently indicted the United States Express Company for carrying C. O. D. packages of houor. They also indicted, at West Union, B. H. Maulsby, the express agent, for receiving the money for whilsky sent C. O. D., and also brought indictments against liquor sellers of this city for shipping whisky C. O. D. These indictments were found uniter special direction of the court were found under special direction of the court and will be made test cases.

Tri-State Brevities. No agreement has yet been reached in the

KILLED WITH AN AX

An Old Vermont Woman, While Alone, Brutally Murdered.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, November 24. -Mrs. Miriam Marston, a widow, aged 70, living with her unmarried daughter near here, was murdered yesterday. Her daughter, Eva, went to church at Hartford, leaving her mother alone. When she returned the daughter found blood on the floor and door knob. Without stopping to investi-gate she summoned her brother-in-law, Lyman Clark, who lives across the road, and then drove to Olcott to inform her brother. Clark entered and found Mrs. Marston in the cellar still alive, with her head battere in, apparently with an ax. He summoned neighbors and physicians, but the old wo-man died shortly after being found.
